

TORO ANTI FATIGUE MAT

A Strong and Comfortable Addition to your Workplace

The Elevar Toro anti fatigue mat will provide support for your feet and relieve pressure on your heels, back, legs, and shoulders, which in turn will help you stand for longer and improve your health.

Made of 100% continuous construction polyurethane specifically designed for its strength and durability, the Toro won't curl up at the edges and is resistant to tearing. Even high heels won't leave a permanent imprint! A mat too soft will feel comfortable to begin with but will also provide no support to the user nor encourage standing for any more than a short period of time.

The Toro is made with high density 300kg/m³ polyurethane to provide both comfort and support as well as encourage movement and increased blood flow. The bevelled edge design reduce trip hazard and the non-slip bottom keeps the Toro in place. The solid, high density construction will give years of continuous support. The Toro measures 900mm x 600mm and comes with a 12 month warranty
